To-day's Schedule. St. Louis in Detroit. Cleveland in Chicago.

PHILADELPHIA, July 4 .- The New Yorks took full advantage of Connic Mack's blunder in the morning same to-day and won a 7 to 5 victory. But the Chancemen could not stand prosperity, for the afternoon contest went to the world's champions by 6 to 2 because McHale had one bad spell, the fourth, when the Macks lumped six hits for four runs.

Before the morning same started Chance shifted his inner works somewhat, benching Fritz Malsel, moving Boone from second to third and sending Frank Truesdale back to his old position at the midway sack. This shift worked far better than had Malsel participated. Truesdale batted savagely all day, getting four hits out of five times up in the morning and making two safeties out of four attempts in the afternoon besides handling ten chances without an error. The transfor evidently helped Boone too, for he made four hits out of seven times up.

New York played a bang up game on the defence. The erratic behavior of the team the day before became just the opposite to-day. Their defence was gilt edged and but for a schoolboy muff by Pete Daley in the morning bout they would have gone through the entire stretch without a miscue.

The New Yorks looked like a beaten ball club in the first seven rounds of the morning game. The champions had a 4 though Wyckoff was rather erratic, he nevertheless was going along well enough aged Eddie Plank. Mack missed Plank could not get started and paugh drew a pass. Daley then to left, filling the sacks. After that trouble came thick and fast for the Athletics and the New Yorks on three more singles jammed four runs over the rubber and were assured of victory before the third hand was out. The scores:

Boston, July 4.- The Dodgers grabbed both games to-day and left the Braws out of sight in the cellar position. In the morning session the visitors were compelled to go eleven innings to gain the honors, the score being 7 to 5. The afternoon performance was a lively one, the score being 4 to 3. There was lots of excitement, while much bad playing by the Bostonians aided the visitors. Jake Daubert, who scored the winning run for Brooklyn in the ninth inning, was knocked out when he collided with Gowdy at the plate. He was assisted from the field and an examination showed that his left leg was badly scraped, but the doctor believes he will be able to go in Monday.

Kid Elberfeld got so angry in the fifth inning when Tyler hit O'Mara on the back of the neck that he made a dash for Lefty George. Evers grabbed him and the umpires and players who hurried up finally forced the Kid to retreat. He was ordered out of the lot for his outbreak.

Brookiyn in the morning game began scoring in the third. Fischer walked, Brown sacrificed and was safe on James s error, O'Mara's sacrifice and Daubert's single scored Fischer and Brown. In the sixth Wheat struck out, but reached first on a wild pitch. He was safe at second on Maranville's error and after Cutshaw's out scored on Stengels grounder to Maranville, which the latter fumbled.

Brooklyn scored again in the eighth or Wheat's double and Cutshaw's single.
In the eleventh Cutshaw opened with a double and Stengel sacrificed, being sata when James made a wild throw. Smith tripled, scoring two runs, and Smith scored on Ragan's single after Fischer

Boston scored in the third on singles
